Sleeping Accommodations:

This year there's no financial penalty for registering late, but if staying in the Lodge you may not get your first choice of accommodations. So register as soon as possible, and give us this information. An advantage of the Lodge is that we get nice rooms. The disadvantage is they don't lend themselves to group living.

_____ I'm staying elsewhere and not spending any nights in the Lodge, so none of this applies to me.

_____ I'm staying in the Lodge.

_____ I've made arrangements with _____ who is also registering and so we're both paying the double occupancy rate.

_____ I'm bringing a non-dancing spouse/significant other/friend who is not registering and so we are paying the single occupancy rate. Name of companion in room _____

_____ I like my privacy and am paying the single occupancy rate.

Beds

The Kenilworth Lodge offers rooms with one king size bed or two double beds. We may run short of rooms with two beds, so if you are willing to share a bed with your roommate, please choose the room with one king bed. Otherwise, choose a room with two doubles. If you choose a two bed room and we are unable to honor your request, the Lodge can provide a roll-away for one of you at an additional cost of $15.00. Yes, we hate to make people pay extra for an inferior bed, and hopefully it won't come to that.

_____ Room with two double beds

More Information:

Meals:

Breakfast: Is the usual hotel continental breakfast. We may get together a crock pot of oatmeal and other goodies, but dry cereal, waffles, and donuts are the major fare.

Lunch: Will be homemade by our hospitality committee. We haven't made plans as of this writing, but probably cold cuts possibly supplemented by ethnic casserole.

Dinner: Friday and Sunday dinner will be on your own. There are several nice restaurants nearby and you can choose what suits you best. Saturday will be a catered dinner, hopefully ethnic.

Full-Package includes Workshops and parties plus three nights in the Kenilworth Lodge, 3 continental breakfasts, 2 homemade lunches, Catered Dinner Saturday Night
